

Pre-Planning.....A Thoughtful Way of Caring.

When you die, your loved ones will have to deal not only with their sorrow and loss in your passing, but also with the many details and decisions required in planning your funeral arrangements.

By Caring enough to pre-plan these arrangements, you can ease the burden on your family during this difficult time. With pre-planning, you specify arrangements that might otherwise cause sadness, confusion, even differences of opinion among family members. You make the choices - even determine the costs - involved in your funeral, bringing peace of mind to yourself and to your family with the knowledge that they will not have to decide what your wishes might have been.

Planning for the future is logical, wise and caring. Don't let this important time be an exception.

Be Prepared For The Unexpected....

It is very human to put things off. But proper planning for the event of one's death can really spare a family some traumatic decisions and often difficult financial burdens.

Pre-Arrangement of Funerals

The desires and wishes for one's funeral, burial and additional expenses can be pre-determined to eliminate confusion, differences of opinion and difficult decisions on the part of family members. The Funeral Director can instruct and guide the family through many difficult problems of this trying time. And with his knowledge and experience, he can sympathetically relieve the family of needless concerns.

The Funeral Director of your choice will also review and recommend ways for you to make known to your loved ones the additional problems which may occur.
